

It's Hammer Time! MC Hammer, the 80's rap star, is making a come back with a new reality television show. Although I probably won't watch the show, I can appreciate how all things old are new again. Our newsletter presents a few business basics that have been around a long time so that you can make them new again (and reap the benefits). This newsletter is intended to give you some useful tips during your work day. We'd love the opportunity to manage your projects, improve your business, and coach your managers.

Bust a Move!
LeadVantage Consulting

Bet Your Paycheck on Your Next Meeting

by Todd Gettelfinger

We are in a lot of meetings. How productive are the meetings you attend? Would you bet your paycheck on the results of your next meeting? Read More

Improving Performance - A Lesson from Wii Fit

by Eileen Koch

For those of you familiar with Wii Fit, you probably love it or hate it. And as I sit here just having been chastised by my own Wii fit, I wonder what Corporate America would be like with something similar in the workplace. Read More

Move Many Things a Few Inches or a Few Things Many Inches

by Todd Gettelfinger

Articles

Bet Your Next Paycheck on Your Next Meeting

Improving Performance - A Lesson from Wii Fit

Move Many Things a Few Inches or a Few Things Many Inches

"For every problem there is one solution which is simple, neat, and wrong"

- H.L. Mencken

Quick Links

Newsletter Sign-Up

Resource Center

More On Us

Contact Us

Often we have a huge list of projects that are all important and must get done, but we don't really know where and how to get started checking things off the list. This article presents several basic prioritization and planning steps that can help you move projects to a successful completion. Read More

LeadVantage Consulting is a management consulting firm in Chicago. We are experts at helping organizations and managers handle change. LeadVantage offers teams of experienced business people using proven methodologies to quickly help you improve your business and deliver results by:

- running projects
- improving processes
- building organizations
- developing managers

Our experience tells us that you have enough to worry about with running your business. Let LeadVantage Consulting help.